CENTRAL RIDGE NEIGHBORHOOD GREENWAY

What's a neighborhood greenway?

Neighborhood greenways are safer, calmer residential streets for you, your family, and neighbors. We make people walking and biking the priority.

Neighborhood greenways can include:

- 20 mph speed limit signs
- speed humps to calm traffic
- stop signs for side streets crossing the neighborhood greenway
- signs and pavement markings to help people find their way
- easier crossings of busy streets with crosswalks, flashing beacons, or traffic signals

ROUTE OPTIONS

The Central Ridge Neighborhood Greenway will go from North Capitol Hill to Judkins Park, and the Lowell-Meany Neighborhood Greenway will go between the two schools.

The north-south central ridge route options help people avoid hills and steep streets. It was scouted by community members and then included in our

Bike Master Plan, which gives us a 20-year roadmap to a citywide bike network.

We're planning where these two neighborhood greenways will go this year. Then we'll fully design them in 2018 and construct them as early as 2019.

See the route options map on the reverse side.

Join us to learn more about potential route options for the Central Ridge Neighborhood Greenway and tell us what you think.
The neighborhood greenway will give people more walking and biking options in Capitol Hill, the Central Area, and Judkins Park.
